International Archaeological Excavation in the ROMAN FORUM

The Tarquins and Rome

SIGNUM VORTUMNI: A project launched in 2016 with official authorisation* to unveil, on the slopes of Rome's Palatine Hill, signs of Etruscan cultural and religious influence which gave rise to the birth of Roman civilization.

While many of the treasures buried beneath the city have been unearthed, more remains to be discovered and preserving the art and architecture of the past is more critical than ever.

*This project is made possible by concession from Soprintendenza Speciale per il Colosseo, il Museo Nazionale Romano e l'Area archeologica di Roma.

The International Society for Archaeology, Art and Architecture of Rome (ISAR) is an Italian non-profit association dedicated to the study, promotion and preservation of the heritage of Rome.

ISAR offers intensive academic programs, and unique field work opportunities – including archaeological excavations, surveys and site visits—as well as conferences, publications and seminars in conservation, architecture, culture and art.

Thanks to a dynamic, interdisciplinary approach ISAR helps its supporters and participants to leave a visible and lasting mark on the heritage of Rome.

Your Support

In order to make sure this project can continue as planned, we need to engage people who would like to contribute to the knowledge we have about the site and Rome's early history.

Participation in ISAR's Roman Forum Excavation offers an unprecedented opportunity for donors to associate their brand with (and leave their mark on) Roman history. Not only will your contributions make possible valuable research and educational opportunities for young archaeologists from around the world, they will provide your company and its valued customers unique a privileged and unique connection to the cradle of western culture, the Palatine Hill.

Among the branding possibilities we can discuss:

- visibility on ISAR website and dedicated project web and social media presence #sponsor
- high-quality publications with sponsor logo and preface
- sponsor will be mentioned in all of our official documents
- professional video documentaries co-branded with sponsor logo
- site-signage and didactic panels with sponsor logo
- exclusive on-site events for sponsor and invited guests: after-hours receptions, meetings with international academic experts and cultural celebrities

ISAR needs to raise roughly €50,000/year for three years to carry out its investigations (not including teaching honoraria, travel costs and other field school expenses). We would prefer a single sponsor to commit the full amount for the first year in role as sponsoring entity but are also willing to consider a portfolio of co-sponsors.

Suggested Sponsorship Levels

- €150,000 Excavation Main Sponsor (name and logo will appear in all communications as sole sponsor)
- €50,000 Single Season Main Sponsor (name and logo will appear in all communications as sole sponsor for one season, with option to renew)

- €20,000 Benefactor (name and logo will appear in all communications together with other benefactors)
- €10,000 Contributor (name and logo will appear in all communications together with other contributors)
